Teachers Ask Salary Increase

At the last regular meeting of the Trustees of the Raymond School District the teachers salary committee of the Raymond Public and High Schools met the Board thru their representative L. L. Harker. The teachers asked for a 20% increase in salary for the 1948-49 term of school.

Mr. Harker pointed out that the surrounding districts are considerably higher than Raymond and said the teachers felt a 20% increase on the present salary schedule would bring salaries in the Raymond District close to other districts in the province and also the surrounding districts. A 20% increase on the present schedule would also make it unnecessary to negotiate a new salary schedule.

No decision was reached at the meeting and the teachers are now awaiting the Board's decision.

The problem facing the board is whether to ask our teachers to work at salaries lower than they could get elsewhere close at home or to raise the salary schedule to compete with surrounding districts and maintain

GARAGES TO CLOSE SATURDAY, SUNDAY

Garage and service station operators of Raymond met recently to effect an organization of their businesses and agreed to close Saturday afternoon at 12 o'clock and remain closed until Monday morning. A schedule was drawn up wherein all service stations and garages would close Saturday afternoon and Sunday with the exception of one station which will give front end service only. The schedule goes into effect this Saturday and Sunday when all garages will close except Glenn's Service.

This agreement was made in order that mechanics and operators might have one half day a week off and also to comply with government regulations concerning the hours per week of work for employees. All garages will post notices as to which of the garages in town will be open on Saturday and Sunday.

By ELIZABETH KING

We are back on the job of writing the History of Raymond after spending about four weeks away from home visiting with our daughters LaVonne (Mrs. Niles Wing) of American Forks and Neela (Mrs. W. F. Mullett) of Cedar City, Utah, my aged mother 85, Mrs. Lucy Knight James of Salt Lake. Also friends and relatives and friends in Ogden, Provo, and Almo Idaho—the home of our childhood days.

We, my husband and I had, the pleasure of spending a very enjoyable day with old time friends and early Raymond pioneers. Our dear friends Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Holbrook of Salt Lake called for us about 8 a.m. and took us in their car to Provo and to the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Knight which is built at the mouth of Provo canyon overlooking the valley.

As we stood there looking through the beautiful plate glass window we saw the green fertile valley below with the Great Salt Lake shimmering in the distance. We remarked it was like a wonderful painting in a lovely frame only more beautiful as it was alive and real.

At one time when Lottie (Mrs. Ray Knight) was visiting in this new modern home she said to Mr. Knight, "Will, why didn't you have the front face the mountains to the east?" Mr. Knight replied, "Well, Lottie, I wanted it built this way so I could look out through this window and in the far distance see the mountains of Eureka where my father was impressed to dig into the mines for riches which later came in his possession and where my father tried so hard to impress his children that the money we should get should be used wisely and well, for the purpose of doing good and for the building up of the church."

And thus we still feel the influence of this good man "Uncle Jesse" Knight who made Raymond possible in 1901—47 years ago.

Going back to our happy visit

Former Raymond residents they are known to many here. While here they will be guests of Mr. Penn's sister Mrs. Emma Webster.

with these good people of the early days of Raymond—J. W. Knight Raymond's first bishop, Jennie B. Knight, the first president of the Y. M. C. A., J. H. Holbrook the first Sunday School superintendent and his wife Alina, the first ward president of the Y. M. C. A. and "Wash" Brimhall, a brother of Jennie and Alina and who also played an important part in the establishment of the town of Raymond—We talked of pioneer days and looked at photographs of those early beginnings. A fire was kindled in the fire place and on glancing through the living room and through the hall we could see the reflection of the cozy fire in a full length mirror which added warmth and comfort to the already friendly atmosphere.

After partaking of a delicious dinner cooked and served by Mrs. Knight and her sister we wended our way back through Provo, stopping at the new brick home of Niles and LaVonne (which was almost ready for occupation) and feeling that we had spent a very happy enjoyable day.

Our only disappointment on our trip as a whole was that we were unable to complete our planned trip to Seattle to see our son Louis his wife LaPrise and new daughter Sandra Lou, also our daughter Stella and family but our disappointment is nothing compared to the homeless in the flood stricken area of the Columbia River.

Our last installment was of the Palmer family and was kindly submitted by Florella Palmer in May. We were ready to close the history of the 1902 pioneers when friends urged I write something pertaining to our own experiences. I therefore humbly submit the following.

RAYMOND'S FIRST M.I.A. MISSIONARIES

In the late summer of 1901 the L. D. S. Church under president Lorenzo Snow called 42 young men to go on as M.I.A. missionaries to different parts of Canada and Utah. We find in this group two elders who later made Raymond their home W. G. Meeks and Louis D. King. We also find in this group a William Payne of Mountain View formerly of Mill and Co., Utah and who later helped in the beautifying of the Cardston People grounds. Elder Payne was Elder Meek's missionary companion and together they labored in Beaver City, Utah.

W. G. Meeks or "Will" as he was best known was born in Pine Valley near St. George but later moved to Dicknell Wayne County, Utah from which place he was called on this mission. Mr. Meeks came to Canada in 1902 with a large herd of cattle but did not remain.

In 1903 he moved to Raymond with his family where he and his brother James have played an important part in the large enterprises entered into in Raymond and district. More will be written of the Meeks family at a later date.

A large photograph of these 42 missionaries was taken in Salt Lake before their departure for their fields of labor. Mr. W. G. Meeks, (Mac) and Louis D. King each have one of these group photographs among their treasured possessions. Elder Thomas Burton from Utah was Elder King's M.I.A. missionary companion and their field of labor was Alberta Canada. It is said they were the first missionaries sent to the Alberta State which was the only State in Canada at that time.

Elder King was born in Collington, Utah, later moving to Salt Lake where Governor Emery of Utah, asked his father Thomas O. King to go out to Idaho and take charge of a large ranch there called the Hart River ranch. This was in the late 70's. In 1880 he moved to Almo, Id. with his family and it was from this home that Louis was called on this M.I.A. mission. At this time Louis and I were engaged to be married but undaunted, we talked things over, and decided to get married and go to Canada together.

After preparations were made and good byes were said we took the train for Salt Lake City where we were married in the Salt Lake Temple by John R. Winder, October 9, 1901—the day before the death of the L.D.S. church president Lorenzo Snow. After the 42 elders were set apart for their missions and after visiting friends and relatives for a few days we left for Ogden where we stopped at the home of George W. Larkin of the Larkin Funeral Homes in Salt Lake, Ogden and California. George W. Larkin was a Patriarch and a close friend of Thomas King Sr.. Before our departure for Canada Patriarch Larkin said he would like to give the newly-weds a blessing which he did and which was a source of comfort and encouragement later on.

It was on October 16, 1901 that Elders Burton, King and myself boarded the train for what seemed for away Canada. When we arrived at Great Falls we travelled from there to Stirling on the "narrow gauge" where we were met by Elder King's brother Thomas O. King Jr. of Kimball, Alta.

EFFECT ON PRICES

The withdrawal of the sales tax on certain foodstuffs has apparently given countless price-conscious Canadians the impression that such costs would drop immediately so that, when these declines are not felt as expected, consumers are rushing to complain, with the complaints reaching Parliament Hill now.

"As to the effect on domestic prices we have no official information but through the Wartime Prices and Trade Board we happen to know that a number of firms passed on the saving immediately," Finance Minister Abbott told the House of Commons, mentioning in particular immediate price cuts noticed in smoked meats and canned goods. "As to how this can be policed as I said before, under our system it can be policed only by the operation of supply and demand and the forces of competition. The only alternative would be a rigid over-all price system with inspectors going into every store to investigate the cost, the mark-up and the margin of profit on any particular item. I think it will be readily appreciated that that is impracticable."

BASES ON BRITISH TERRITORY

The Canadian Government has not taken part in any negotiations nor is it even aware of any negotiations involving British territories on which the United States was granted 99 years leases with a view to having these leases cancelled. This has been disclosed here in official quarters where it is indicated that the Canadian Government is not taking any action in this matter and is not even aware of any conferences being held.

COMMUNIST SUPPORT

In answer to a question on a report that "Communists intend to support the Liberals in the coming Quebec election", Postmaster General Bertrand replied "The Liberal Party accepts no responsibility as regards Communists."

TECHNICAL AGRICULTURALISTS

It is reported now that the Department of Agriculture of the Canadian Government employs no less than 1,351 technical agriculturalists and these are paid a total of $1,469,520 a year, emphasizing the growing value of such services to the Canadian farming operations. In fact, at the headquarters here in this capital 299 such technical agriculturalists are employed now at an annual cost in wages of $1,119,110. In other areas, such trained personnel include 250 in Ontario, 138 Quebec, 132 Alberta, 134 British Columbia, 131 Saskatchewan, 121 Manitoba, 50 New Brunswick, 46 Nova Scotia, 19 Prince Edward Island and one in North West Territories.

FIT TO PRINT

"It is a most difficult thing to say what is fit for publication and what is not," said Justice Minister Casey in Parliament. "We receive a continual stream of resolutions asking us to ban salacious magazines and other publications, and there is the same complaint about these comics, which it is alleged lead children to crime. But it would appear that it is covered now by the Juvenile Delinquents Act, which provides a penalty for any person doing or contributing to a child's becoming a juvenile delinquent. The trouble, of course, would be to get a conviction."

"The possibility depends largely on the state of public opinion in the community," Mr. Casey emphasized. "It is not possible to define with any exactitude decency or a publication that leads to crime."

DO YOU WEAR IT OR EAT IT

"What is Illipe butter? It is not margarine is it? asked an MP in the House of Commons with this being but one of many questions asked about Illipe butter along Parliament Hill, where it is surprising how few observers really did know this "64 question".

"No it is not margarine" said a spokesman for the Canadian Government, pointing out that Illipe butter is used mainly as a substitute of cocoa butter in the manufacture of chocolate and chocolate coatings for the biscuit trade, with this Illipe butter providing a fat that has a somewhat higher melting point than cocoa butter and which tends to prevent the bloom on the chocolate or coating.

"Imports during the next 12 months are estimated to range from 1000 to 2000 tons," said this spokesman.

FAIR AND JUST

"I would reply to that question that when we receive from the Premier of British Columbia a statement in which the Premier sets forth the need for financial assistance, we will take immediately that request into consideration and will deal with it on lines which we believe will be considered fair and just by the province and by the Dominion," declared Premier King when he was asked in Parliament about what financial assistance will be given to B.C. following floods.

C.B.C. and TELEVISION

It has been made clear now that if and when television is established and operated in Canada, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will have supervision of television rather than the National Film Board.

FLOURINE IN DRINKING WATER

Health Minister Martin has disclosed that the Dental Health Division of his Department is co-operating with the City of Brantford, Ont., and the National Research Council to discover the effects of adding flourine to the water supply in that city with a survey team being now at work. The teeth of the children in that city will be compared with those of two other Canadian cities, Sarnia and Stratford. This will require dental examinations of about 5000 children during 1948 and it is expected that the examination will be repeated every two years for 8 years. The purpose of his undertaking is to find out if the addition of flourine drinking water will reduce tooth decay.

SAID IN THE CAPITAL

"The European Recovery Program Act passed in the United States has proven a tonic for the whole world," commented the U.K. High Commissioner to Canada, Sir Alexander Cluttenhuck during an address here.

"Mr. Casey's willingness to remain in office throughout the present session was due to what he felt he owed to Parliament and in particular to his colleagues in the government with whom he had been associated in the preparation of sessional program," said Premier King in this capital discussing the coming retirement of Justice Minister Casey who is entering private law practice in Montreal.

"This situation concerns all Canada," declared George Crutchank MP for Fraser Valley, B.C. whose riding has been hardest hit by the floods in B.C.

"Women must be active in finding ways to improve our own democracy and make it strong," stressed Mrs. R. J. Marshall, President of National Council of Women in a speech here.

"Most occultists do not accept rebates but the situation varies considerably in different parts of the country," stated Combines Investigation Act Commissioner McGregor in connection with the report about "kickbacks" on eyeglass prescriptions.

"I am one who does not believe in the possibility of another war but if it should happen we shall fight it shoulder to shoulder," remarked Dr. J. H. van Loijen, The Netherlands Ambassador to Canada during a ceremony in this capital.

WEEKLY WIND-UP

Stories about changes in the federal cabinet are circulating more and more in this capital lately, with one persistent story being that the Premier of a mid Western Province may enter the cabinet upon the retirement of Premier King.

Finance Minister Abbott does not appear to like the charge that the taxes on soda pop and candy are taking candy from kids, emphasizing strongly that not only children are involved since candy taxes produced $16,398,000 last year and soda pop $23,767,000.

In order to complete the essential business as much as possible by June 30th, it is proposed the House of Commons will sit practically "day & night" running procedure from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. 2-6 and 8-11 p.m.

The National Council of Women's annual meeting here left no doubt that the wanted rental controls "until such time as the housing shortage has been alleviated" with women from all parts of Canada apparently being impressed that much more will have to be done before the housing problems in solved and controls are lifted.

Sir Fredrick Balm, President of British Industries, passing through Ottawa, stated that 33,000,000 yards of British textiles have already been shipped to Canada this year.

A famous Hollywood movie producer declared here that good films can be made in Canada to conserve exchange, completing plans of his own to make his second feature in this country.

Lethbridge Experimental Station WEEKLY LETTER

WHAT ABOUT WATER EROSION?

Normally, water erosion has not been considered as being of serious importance in Southern Alberta. However, the runoff from the melting snows and rains of the last two seasons has shown definitely that it can and does occur here. The results of even one seasons erosion may cause permanent injury to the soil.

Three types of water erosion have been recognized:

1. Sheet erosion, in which case the whole surface of the soil is washed away. This type is the least noticeable but probably the most serious.
2. Rill erosion, in which case tiny gullies occur down the slopes. This type of erosion often occurs in conjunction with sheet erosion.
3. Gully erosion, where gullies and small ravines are cut down to depths of several feet by the action of fairly large volumes of water flowing down drainageways. The method of reducing the losses of soil from this type of erosion was outlined in a previous weekly letter.

The amount of water erosion of these different types either singly or in combination, depends on a number of factors including:

1. The amount of snow and rate of melting, and the amount and intensity of the rainfall.
2. The degree and length of slope of the land.
3. The type of vegetative covering.

In Southern Alberta, serious water erosion, of all three types, occurs most frequently in the foothills region, where the precipitation is heavier and the slopes are steeper. The more serious losses occur also on the heavier soils, such as in the Pincher Creek region and Drumheller district, where the clay soil not permit the rapid percolation of the water. When the subsoil is frozen serious erosion may occur on a soil type. Also a heavy downpour may cause water erosion even in the drier areas of Southern Alberta.

Water erosion usually washes away the finer particles of the soil, namely the silt and clay, which are also the highest in fertility. In tests made of the water from the Oldman River at a point near Lethbridge, on May 25, 1948 at which time the peak of the flow was over, it was found that the river was carrying 3.142 percent of suspended soil particles. By calculation, it is computed that the river was carrying away Alberta's topsoil at the rate of 8115 tons per hour. On the basis of the number of acres to a depth of 6 inches, it is calculated that 19 acres or more than one quarter section of surface soil is lost per day, when conditions as noted above prevail. This is a very serious drain on Alberta's most valuable natural resources and steps should be taken at once to minimize this loss.

Chemical Summerfallow

This year, many prairie farmers are particularly interested in the possibility of a "Chemical Summerfallow" replacing, at least in part, tedious and costly cultural practices for weed control.

Limitations. The results of chemical summerfallow trials made in Western Canada in 1947, indicate that the use of 2,4-D and other chemical weed killers in controlling weeds on summerfallow land has definite limitations. As a complete substitute for mechanical cultivation, the results now available strongly suggest that chemical summerfallow will be largely confined to areas or fields where the weeds present are exclusively or predominately Wild Mustard, Sunkweed and certain other susceptible annual weeds. The emergence of these weeds can be almost completely prevented by early applications of 2,4-D at rates that are recommended for the control of these weeds in growing crops.

It is already abundantly clear that land infested with resistant weeds such as Wild Oats, Couch (Quack) Grass, Wild Barley, Green Foxtail, Cow Cockle and Peppergrass, will not lend itself to chemical summerfallow. Early applications of 2,4-D to such land will simply remove the susceptible annual weeds, tend to reduce the top growth of the partially-resistant weeds (Canada Thistle, Perennial Sow Thistle, etc.), and allow the above-mentioned resistant weeds to flourish without competition.

For the effective control of Canada Thistle and Perennial Sow Thistle on land under summerfallow, heavy applications of the Ester form of 2,4-D, made when the buds are well formed or during the early flowering stage, are recommended. One and one-half pounds of 2,4-D acid equivalent per acre is suggested.

More Information Needed No one has all the answers to the numerous problems associated with "chemical summerfallow". More research and field experiments are needed. Farmers planning extensive chemical summerfallow operations this year should consult their local Agricultural Representative or provincial weed authorities, or for further information write to Line Elevators Farm Service, Winnipeg.

NE WFARM CROP USES NOW SOUGHT IN PRAIRIE LAB.

The Prairie Regional Laboratory of the National Research Council was officially opened at Saskatoon on June 8th. Ten years ago, Cecil Lamont representing the Line Elevator Company, visited all the principal research laboratories of the United States to determine the feasibility of research into finding new edible and inedible uses for Canada's recurring wheat surpluses. At the initial meeting of the National Chemistry Committee of the Canadian Chambers of Commerce, held in Toronto in November, 1938, the representatives of the Line Elevator Company publicly put forward the first proposals for the establishment of a Western Laboratory of the National Research Council dedicated to finding new edible and inedible uses for grains and farm wastes. This was followed with representations to the Dominion Government for the establishment of the laboratories, coupled with an educational campaign which found wide support in the weekly newspapers of the Prairie Provinces. Culmination of these efforts was the election of the $1,000,000 Prairie Regional Laboratory located on the University grounds at Saskatoon and dedicated "to increasing knowledge of methods and processes for the utilization of farm surpluses and wastes in Western Canada."

Immediate research will be devoted to wheat, oats, barley, flax, rape seed, sun flower seeds, sugar beets and straw in order to determine what additional uses can be made of these farm products in the production of industrial goods in order to add to farm income. Of the 25 million tons of straw produced in the Prairie provinces annually eight million tons are wasted. Experiments will be made in creating building materials, insulating materials and paper from this waste straw. Research into developing new fats, oils and paint from oil bearing seeds will be carried on and wheat will be subjected to experiments in the developing of fuel oils and anti-freeze compounds.

Members of the National Research Council, scientists from all parts of Canada, representatives of the Line Elevator Companies and many others interested in the development of agriculture attended the official opening ceremonies. On this occasion the University of Saskatchewan held a special convocation when the degree of doctor of laws was conferred on Dr. K. W. Neatby former director of the Line Elevators Farm Service and now Director of Science Service at Ottawa; Dr. J. F. Booth, associate director Marketing and Agricultural Economics; Dr. W. H. Cook, National Research Council; Dr. Robert Newton, President, University of Alberta, and Dr. J. M. Craigie, Dominion botanist. The degrees were conferred for distinguished services to agriculture.

LEGION NOTES

On Wednesday June 16th, a joint meeting of two Legion branches namely Raymond and New Dighton was held in the Hungarian Hall at 8:30 p.m. with the President of the Raymond Branch, E. M. Peterson in the chair.

Following the routine business a resolution was passed authorizing the Legion Executive to arrange for a float and Veterans parade in support of the traditional community celebration of the forthcoming Dominion Day and Raymond Stampede.

The rest of the meeting was highlighted by the detailed review of the proceedings of the Legion Dominion Convention that was held recently in Saskatoon. The report was presented by comrade Paul Woolley and welcomed the Convention on behalf of both branches. Following the lively discussion the meeting adjourned and the rest of the evening was spent in playing games with house and refreshments provided and enjoyed by all.

On Sunday, June 12th, a special executive meeting was held in the Town Hall at 3:00 p.m. when further details of the float and Veterans Parade were planned for July 1st. Comrade Deral West was appointed as chairman of the Float Committee and was authorized to call on any member including Executive for assistance that will be required in building the float.

Except for color bearers who will be specially appointed to report in full uniform, the veterans will parade in "civies" with decorations or ribbons worn by all possessing them. The Polish War Veterans residing now in the district are cordially invited to form a detachment and join the general veterans parade.

In an endeavor to bring every War Veteran of the District marching in the parade, a separate contact committee was appointed for each branch of the Armed Forces. These will endeavor to contact in person and win the support of every Veteran available in Raymond and District.

Names of the Committees are as follows:
NAVY: Deral West, Paul Woolley;
ARMY: Ronald Watson, Rae Attwood, George McGilvery, Clarence Richardson;
AIR FORCE: E. M. Peterson; M. Depew, G. Fawns;

Stampede Night Attraction Offers Laughs Galore

Anything for a friendly laugh—that the philosophy responsible for the amazing popularity of radio's Stan Francis, English-born, Canadian raised star of the CBC's "Share The Wealth". That same philosophy will be given full rein when Francis makes his appearance in Raymond next month under the auspices of the Lions Club and their Big Stampede and Race Meet.

The Francis all-star show billed as "Funsafizzin'" will appear at Raymond July 1st as a special night show attraction at the Stampede grounds.

An ex-vaudeville, Stan Francis has treaded the stage in many parts of the world. Always congenial and friendly, he has the happy knack of making friends wherever he stops.

Funsafizzin', according to officials in charge, is a show put together with the principal purpose of making laughs. Sensational successes elsewhere along its Canadian tour prove that laughs are made aplenty and thrills as well. Included in the cast of Funsafizzin' are such well-known stars as Russ Titus, NBC & CBC romantic baritone; Mildred Morey, young singing comedienne who carried the lead in the original Army Show which toured Canada during the war; Johnny Loxton, vizard of the slack wire; Dorothy Merrill, accordionist and pianist who charmed Canadian troops in Canada and Europe; the Windsors, three handsome young men whose spectacular hand balancing routines are one of the highlights of the show.

In addition to the entertainment making up the show the program includes as well a variety of novelty stunts for which hundreds of dollars in valuable prizes are offered.

All in all, Funsafizzin' is a variety show designed to please every member of the family.

Fire-side for the M.Men and Gleaners of the 2nd and 3rd wards was enjoyed Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Erickson. Honored guests were Bob Bennett and Jeanne Iwaasa, both of whom left this week for L.D.S. missions.

"Cynthia", a swell show, at the Capitol next week.

A Tribute to Agriculture

In the last reckoning all things are bought with food. Our civilization is bought with food; our industrial achievements as a province and a nation; our cultural advantages, our recreation. Food abundant and adequate, is necessary to support our civilization.

The food produced on Alberta farms is the main source of the annual wealth production of this province.

The total new wealth produced from Alberta's field crops in the past eight years was $1,736,000,000 an annual average of $217,000,000.

The gross Alberta farm cash income in the past eight years was over two billion dollars, an annual average of $250 millions.

The Alberta Wheat Pool publishes these statistics to show to Alberta people the value of the agricultural industry.

The Wheat Pool is a farmer-owned cooperative operating 176 country elevators and two terminals.

Pool Elevators have provided exceptional service to Alberta grain producers over the years.
